

Marseille Provence Creative Tour

October 18th to 21th, 2018

A 3-day trip to visit Marseille & Provence

Marseille Provence

Southern Europe's most inspiring and energetic crossroads of people and cultures

For film and the creative industries

Why?

Marseille is an amazing city, a cultural, historical, crossroads where ancient and modern, Europe and North Africa, meet. It will charm you and challenge you in equal measure. It lies in the heart of Provence, known the world over for its landscape, its light, its Mediterranean coastline, its mountain villages, its wines, olives, saucisson and seafood, all delivered in market squares every morning.

The City of Marseille is committed to making Provence the most attractive place financially and creatively to make film and television in France, even Europe as a whole. New fiscal measures in France, mean rebates are now available to Non-French language content for the first time.

What?

Marseille Provence Creative Tour is a 3-day trip, to explore the region's filming locations, key players & back lots. Key features:

- Discovering the region: landscapes, history, heritage & culture
- Inspiring stories: short films, feature films, series, documentaries, animation
- Developing productions between Provence & the world
- Meeting creative people: Provence is an artistic and cultural melting pot

You will be invited to pitch and network during the Marseille Web Fest, International Festival of Digital Series.

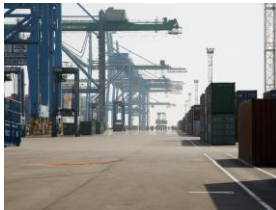

Who?

Marseille-Provence is determined to be open for co-productions with the English-speaking world, and is extending an invitation to all content makers. That means you! We are looking for producers, screenwriters and any industry professionals based in Europe or in North America who are looking to shoot a film in the south of France.

When?

October 18th to 21th

A 3-day trip to visit Marseille & Provence including meeting with studios and back lots, excursions to unique shooting sites (calanques, Provencal Venice, Vieux Port), networking with cinema, audiovisual and digital key players in the Southern Region.

How?

Profiles will be selected mid July. We will prioritize profiles who wish to discover the entire Marseille-Provence region to develop future productions.

Participation for the Creative Tour is all-inclusive: flights, meals, visit and overnight stay at the Sofitel, a 5-star hotel located in the heart of this charming French city's ancient harbor area.

Interested?

Do you have a short film, feature film, series, documentary, or animation project? Do you want to shoot in Marseille? Send us a message to sebastien.dagault@linxeo.com with your profile and motivations.
